DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-22, drawn to a method of culturing cells in suspension in a microfluidic device.

Group II, claim(s) 23-35, drawn to a microfluidic device for culturing cells in suspension.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of the Application is anticipated by Jensen et al (US PGPub 2004/0077075, claiming priority to 1 May 2002). Jensen et al teach a microfluidic device for culturing cells. The microfermentor is a vessel having an interior volume of less than 200 ml and in particular 5 ml (see para [0050]) and which has an inlet port and an aeration membrane made of a fluoropolymer or silicone that allows oxygen diffusion to the growing cells. The cells are monitored by measuring metabolite concentration within the chamber; the metabolite can be carbon dioxide, for example. The sensor can be an optical sensor. Additionally the microfermentor can comprise multiple chambers in series, separated by metabolite permeable membranes (see paras [0005]-[0010], for example). The cells are inhibited from adhering by stirring, for example (see para [0053], for example).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1657

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
